

JULIET LINDERMAN

Ambitious digitally savvy and FOIA-fluent national reporter with 10 years' experience cultivating sensitive sources, covering major breaking news events and developing deep enterprise and investigations on a range of topics.

Work Experience

ASSOCIATED PRESS

DOMESTIC POLICY REPORTER, NOV. 2017-PRESENT

- Chronicles how Trump Administration policies play out across the country for the world's largest news organization.
- Generates ideas and produces ambitious enterprise and deeply reported features about inequality and the government safety net.
- Exclusively revealed a Congressman offered an aide $5 million to carry his child.
- Conducted an analysis of a HUD proposal to raise rents on America's poorest residents that led to Secretary Ben Carson to disavow the plan.
- Convinced several female lawmakers to discuss being sexually harassed by colleagues, prompting new federal legislation.
- Uncovered a White House proposal to implement drug testing for food aid recipients.

BALTIMORE REPORTER, MAY 2014-NOV. 2017

- Sole AP reporter in Baltimore with an extensive roster of city, state and federal government and law enforcement sources.
- Anchored a team of reporters covering Freddie Gray's death and the unrest that followed across all formats.
- Told the story of the city's most violent year through the eyes of a funeral director, survivors of gunshot wounds, the sister of a man killed by the Baltimore police and an officer trying to repair fractured trust.
- Uncovered a state plan to bar Maryland inmates from receiving letters. The story led to the state revoking the proposal.
- Routinely recruited to work on national projects, including an award-winning investigation into sex assault in schools, an examination of juveniles serving life sentences and a series with USA Today on teen gun violence, among others.
- Tapped to cover Hurricane Harvey in Houston, the fatal shooting of five police officers in Dallas and floods in South Carolina.

THE TIMES-PICAYUNE

FEDERAL COURTS REPORTER, AUG. 2013-MAY 2014; RIVER PARISHES REPORTER, NOV. 2012-AUG. 2013

- Federal courts reporter for Louisiana's largest newspaper with a focus on public corruption, prosecutorial misconduct, gangs and the Justice Department. Previously worked as the sole reporter in three rural parishes.
- Uncovered a legal loophole in DWI prosecutions that inspired the legislator to publicly pledge to change a law.
- Used sources and open- records laws to reveal sex assault allegations against a former district attorney.
- Revealed the failings of a 911 emergency response radio system that led to the deaths of two deputies.

REFUGEE HOTEL BOOK, VOICE OF WITNESS/MCSWEENEY'S, WINTER 2012

AUTHOR/EDITOR

- Traveled the country collecting oral histories of refugees from war-torn countries in six different American cities.
- Remains a best-selling title of the series

GREENPOINT GAZETTE, AUG. 2008-APRIL 2011

MANAGING EDITOR

- Generated all story ideas, wrote 8-10 articles per week, and managed freelancers for the Brooklyn independent weekly.
- Launched the newspaper's first website and overhauled print layout, increased circulation by 200 percent.
- Broke major stories about infrastructure, development and state policy affecting three North Brooklyn communities.

Awards

- 2018 Sigma Delta Chi Investigative Reporting Award, Schoolhouse Sex Assault
- 2017 APME for AP Journalists Award, Hurricane Harvey and Its Aftermath
- 2016 John L. Dougherty Award for Exemplary Work - Honorable Mention

Education

New York University, B.A.

Gallatin School of Individualized Study, 2008